Standard Casting Directory
616 Taft Building
Hollywood, Calif.

Gentlemen:

The cast of the present day picture must be selected with greater care than has ever been exercised in the history of the motion picture industry. Perfectly balanced casts are absolutely essential to the success of a picture.

In the selection of artists we have found The Standard to be of inestimable assistance, as the diversity of types presented enables us to visualize our casts and obtain the characters necessary to insure the success of our production.

Yours very truly,

Henry Hobart

Mr. Producer:

Stop! Worrying about your "Heavy"

Monroe Lathrop, says in L. A. Express on March 29, 1927, in regard to "The Noose": "One seldom hears a villain of the dirty dog type, roundly applauded. But Walter Percival may lay this exceptional tribute to his soul's unction. The audience so signified its appreciation of a fine performance of a detestable role."

Surely! You haven't forgotten my years in New York Productions. Also, you must still remember me locally as "Slim Sullivan" in "Alias the Deacon" at the Playhouse; "Buck Gordon" in "The Noose" at the Vine Street; "Cannon" in "Speakeasy" at the Orange Grove; "Butch Cooper" in "Lulu Belle" at Belasco.

LAMPITO

Featured Comedy Role

in

"LYSISTRATA"

"Perfectly cast and giving a performance that stands out for its individual accomplishment, Miss Stanwyck, the woman from Sparta, shows her dark patrician style to advantage and is blessed with a soft, well modulated voice."
—Hollywood Daily Citizen.

"One of the best performances is offered by Gary Stanwyck."
—Los Angeles Evening Record.

"Comedy honors fell to Gary Stanwyck, who as the noble Spartan grand dame, made the most of every opportunity."
—Los Angeles Times.

"The comedy element was brought out most strongly by Gary Stanwyck, who played 'Lampito' with a modern twist that showed a natural as well as a professional ability for comic roles."

"Malcolm" in "Upper Underworld"—First Nat'l

"The human interest occurs mostly in those situations in which Douglas Scott, a boy about four years old, appears; he is lovable, free from self-consciousness, and acts like a veteran."
—from review of "Reno," Harrison's Reports, New York.

"Particularly outstanding is the work of Douglas Scott, a boy of four years, who reads lines like a veteran."
—from review of "Night Work" by Porter, Los Angeles Examiner.

"The honors of the picture, however, go to Douglas Scott, a kid who has all the elements of being a trouper. This child of about four or five years is ready and in a class by himself for either laugh getting or serious parts. His dialogue reading is intelligent and finished, and his voice mikes a million."
—from review of "Night Work" by Jacobs, Los Angeles "Inside Facts."

Portrait of Dorothy Mackaill—
First National Productions.

This is one of the highlights of the collection of Fur Jackets for summer wear being featured at Willard George's Willard George LTD.

FURS
THE ATELIER
3330 Wilshire Boulevard
Corner Catalina Street

It's grey back ermine and is an example of the better type fur jacket that we make. But whatever the fur, you may be sure it is the best you can buy for the price. Every desirable fur from Lapin to Ermine.
